

The NOBLEMAN turned COACHMAN.

A Grecian youth of talents rare,
Whom Plato's philosophic care
Had form'd for virtue's nobler view,
By precept and example too,
Would often boast his matchless skill
To curb the steed and guide the wheel.

And

FABLES

And as he pass'd the gate
With graceful ease, and
The idiot wonder they
Was praise and transp

At length quite vain
His master, what his a
And bad his slave the c
To Academy's sacred sh
The trembling grove o
The Wood-Nymphs st
The Muses dropt the
And to their inmost sh

Howe'er the youth
Bows to the sage, and
The last resounds, the
The chariot marks the
And gath'ring crowds
And shouts pursue him

Triumphant to the
With nobler thirst his
And now along th' in
The self-same track h
I